Headline:
A wet start then afternoon sunshine and showers. Becoming windy.

Today:
A wet start to the day as a band of rain, heavy at times and wintry over hills, moves eastwards over the region. This will clear by midday, leaving behind scattered showers and some sunny spells. Winds strengthening throughout. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tonight:
Scattered showers, wintry over hills and possibly thundery, are likely to continue for most areas overnight, before becoming drier before dawn. Strong, blustery winds likely along coasts. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Sunday:
A dry day for most, with plenty of sunny spells and lighter winds. Showers likely to move in from the north through the evening. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Cloudy on Monday with brisk winds, before rain arrives later. Very wet and windy throughout Tuesday. Heavy rain to start Wednesday, drier later. Generally cold, though milder on Tuesday.
